Lawmakers to vote TODAY on Transgender Equal Rights Bill

Moments ago, the Massachusetts Judiciary Committee released the Transgender Equal Rights Bill. We expect lawmakers in the state House and Senate to cast historic votes on the bill TODAY or TOMORROW.

Please take a moment NOW to call your state lawmakers to ask for their support of this bill.

You can look up your state representative and senator and their contact information here: <http://www.malegislature.gov/people/findmylegislator>

Your request for support from state representatives and senators is critical. Opponents of the bill have been swamping the inboxes of lawmakers.

Lawmakers need to know that the public supports transgender rights!

This bill will provide vital protections in employment, education, housing, credit, and hate crimes, which transgender residents of the Commonwealth desperately need. It is not perfect because it does not include protections based on public accommodations, but it is a critical and historic step forward.

Historic vote expected today!

Please call your state legislators right now and ask them to support the Transgender Equal Rights Bill.

CONTACT YOUR LAWMAKERS

Please contact lawmakers today and ask them to support this historic bill. You can look up your state legislators' contact information at <http://www.malegislature.gov/people/findmylegislator>.
