Speak with a Bloomberg Engineer

Bloomberg Engineering is holding virtual coffee chats with Boston University students and we would love to chat with you!

You will be able to learn more about Bloomberg and what a typical day-in-the-life is like for a Software Engineer. Bloomberg Engineers will want to hear about your professional and technical experiences, project work and extracurriculars, and what you're looking for in terms of your next opportunity.

Whether you are currently looking for a full-time opportunity or looking to build relationships for future opportunities, we want to meet you!
